BC Hydro's W.A.C. Bennett Dam and its reservoir (Williston Lake) continue to affect all life forms within the Rocky Mountain Trench, and downstream through BC and Alberta to the Peace-Athabasca Delta. A second dam, Peace Canyon, was built 23 km downstream. Now, a third dam (Site C) currently under construction 83 km downstream of Peace Canyon dam (near Fort St. John), is raising serious concerns.

This Was Our Valley contains stories from personal perspectives of First Nations, local ranchers, trappers, prospectors, and town residents, contrasted with those of dam workers and the owner's claims for validation of these projects.
