

Meet the Australian Companies Behind the Grassy Mountain Project

November 30, 2020

Who are Benga Mining, Riversdale Resources, and Hancock Prospecting Pty Ltd? These are the three Australian companies with designs on Grassy Mountain's coal. This post reports on Riversdale's connection to what one major Australian newspaper called "one of the worst deals in corporate history," Riversdale's journey across the Pacific to North America, and how the relationships between these companies could hinder reclamation if this project is approved.
